

Prophecy Of The Punishment Of My Evil Babylon Of Sin And Wickedness, Amen And Amen Forever!

"I Am going to destroy your empire of sin. It will come with a sudden burst. The Russians will attack it with their nuclear weapons. They are already here, propositioned in the cities. I have ordained it. I Am the Living God. This Babylon of sin must be destroyed suddenly by Me— it won't repent. I have preordained it, its total destruction, this empire of sin and wickedness. Babylon must fall, few will stand up for Me: the Daniels are few, the Jeremiahs have prophesied against it; it must be fulfilled to the letter— the prophecies of old written in the Bible against this evil empire of sin and wickedness. Modern Babylon must be destroyed; publish your prophecies. I have spoken. The Antichrist of old must arise in My land of sin, of unrepentant people of wickedness and sin. Repent, Oh people, but they won't; I have hardened their hearts unto destruction, not softened them unto repentance. Pray unto the LORD for your deliverance; this empire of sin must be destroyed; Babylon must fall. The Antichrist must arise and control all predestined for Hell and eternal damnation. Many there are who shall fall by his hand: he works through prosperity, not by force of military might. That is what gets the peoples— their covetous desires for more— that's what gets them up for the morning. My people shall be preserved, My son. My havens of rest are prepared, safe from the Antichrist's onslaught against them. Preserved forever, safe in My Presence, be there: My servant is where I Am, whether in the city or out in the countryside. This empire of sin must be destroyed— I make it so. Flee for your lives out into the desert where I Am, prepared for a time is your deliverance, safe from evil in My Presence. Go there. That is where I Am in My places of refuge. Babylon shall be nothing but ashes and crumpled idols of sin. I have ordained it. Flee from it into My Presence. I Am A Wrathful God, My son, especially against evil empires of sin like yours— evil Babylon. I Am against all sinful kingdoms and wicked empires of sin, My son, especially yours. Babylon must be destroyed by My wrath, My furious wrath, My son. It is destined to be so by My Word, My son. Research it: read all you can on wicked Babylon, both modern and ancient versions of it, oppressors of My people Israel, both modern and ancient. Babylon must go, it will fall, never to rise again— I have ordained it, My son. My Word plainly says so. Babylon will be obliterated into ashes; great is My wrath against it; My furious rage will accomplish it, My son. Flee to foreign countries if you want to survive, My son. My wrath will end all life and prosperity here; great will be its destruction; few will survive My wrath, My son. Great is My righteous indignation against the place; it has caused many to fall in the Earth; great are the abortions committed in the place of evil Babylon; great is My wrath against it; flee if you can! Your LORD has spoken. Amen and amen, My son, Brian. Amen forever!”
